SOUTHWEST INDIANA LAWMAKERS APPOINTED TO SUMMER STUDY COMMITTEES

INDIANAPOLIS – Lawmakers representing Southwest Indiana have been selected to serve on a series of interim study committees for the Indiana General Assembly, according to an announcement today by Indiana House Democrat Leader B. Patrick Bauer (D-South Bend).

"These study committees do much of the background work on the subjects that will form the backbone of the 2007 session of the Legislature," Bauer noted. "In making these selections, I want to take full advantage of the diverse areas of expertise that these fine people bring to the General Assembly. I believe they will use these appointments to advance proposals that will benefit many people across Indiana."

STATE REP. DENNIS AVERY (D-EVANSVILLE) will be a member of the New Harmony Commission, the Evansville State Hospital Advisory Committee and the State Budget Committee.

STATE REP. DAVE CROOKS (D-WASHINGTON) will serve on the Interim Study Committee on Criminal Justice Matters, the Military Base Planning Council, the Regulatory Flexibility Committee and the Tobacco Farmers and Rural Community Impact Fund Advisory Board.

STATE REP. PHIL HOY (D-EVANSVILLE) will be a member of the Air Pollution Compliance Advisory Panel, the Evansville State Hospital Advisory Committee and the New Harmony Commission.

STATE REP. DENNIE OXLEY (D-MILLTOWN) will serve on the Interim Study Committee on Government Administration and Regulatory Matters and the Water Resources Study Committee.

STATE REP. RUSS STILWELL (D-BOONVILLE) will be a member of the Interim Study Committee on Public Health and Safety Matters and the Indiana Abraham Lincoln Bicentennial Commission.

STATE REP. TRENT VAN HAAFTEN (D-MOUNT VERNON) will serve on the Interim Study Committee on Criminal Justice Matters, the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, the New Harmony Commission, the Evansville State Hospital Advisory Committee and the Code Revision Commission.
